

Time to come home dear brother
Your time guarding the wall is through You've given as much as anyone
Could be expected to do

Just a few steps further
The smoke will start to clear
Others here will guide you
You have no need of fear

You have not failed your brothers
You clearly gave it all
And through your selfless actions
Others will hear the call

So take your place of honor
Among those who have gone before
And know you will be remembered
For now and evermore

APPRECIATION

The family wishes to express their gratitude for your kindness evidenced in thought and deed, and for your attendance at the funeral service.

"Gone from our sight - but never our memories; Gone from our touch - but never our hearts."

Scott will be lovingly remembered and sadly missed by his mother Florence (nee Gunther) Pronych of Lake Lenore; brothers, Evan (Lana) Pronych and family Abbie, Justin and Ryland and Doran (Sherri) Pronych and family Mason and Summer; his loving companion, Tammy Riel; and her family, daughters Jade (Brock) and Jenna and grandchildren Matthew, Leo and Scott's special little Ivy. Scott was predeceased by his father, Joseph Pronych; parental grandparents Mike and Jenny Pronych; and maternal grandparents Otto and Lydia Gunther.

Scott was born to Joseph and Florence (nee Gunther) Pronych on May 1, 1971 in Esterhazy, SK. The family relocated several times during his childhood, finally settling in Lake Lenore in 1985. It was here that Scott created life long friendships and the place he called home. After Scott graduated from Lake Lenore School, he completed his Commercial Cooking certification at Kelsey Institute in Saskatoon and three-year apprenticeship at the Saskatoon Inn. He earned his journeyman certificate and became a Red Seal certified chef and began working at the Radisson Hotel. Scott's passion for cooking started at a very early age and his love of sharing food and feeding others continued until his death. Scott changed careers in 1999 and began working at the Federal Penitentiary in Prince Albert, SK and was a proud member of the Correctional Officers of Canada for twenty years. Once at the "Pen" he found another family with his co-workers and shared his knowledge and created endless memories with his "old school guard ways". Scott was a protector and his career gave him the ability to carry that out. Scott had a passion for hunting, fishing and the camaraderie that came along with it. He had many great hunting and fishing trips with his brothers, family and friends. Scott also loved traveling, collecting antiques and working on projects while entertaining visitors in his shop. Just like his dad, Scott made friends with everyone he met. His friends became like family and they knew they could rely on his help for anything, a great meal anytime and the occasional call to pick up an antique he bought on Kijiji. Family was important to Scott and he loved them very dearly. Scott's mother, Florence, was the first love of his life and he enjoyed spending his days helping her and driving her crazy with his antics. Scott's dad was his idol and he always tried to follow in his footsteps. Evan and Doran, his brothers, were his first friends and fishing partners, this involved laughter, fights and their mother's peacekeeping. Scott's love and pride for his nephews and nieces was always evident and he loved to spoil them with cash, candy and questionable lessons. In 2015 on a plane to Mexico, Scott met the second love of his life, Tammy. Over the next few years they created a life and home together in Lake Lenore. They spent their time with friends and family, traveling, facetimeing, arguing and fixing things that one of them broke. In 2016, Tammy's granddaughter Ivy was born, and Scott became a proud and loving papa to his "my girl". He always wanted to share his endless love and time whether in bouncy castles, watching Netflix on his phone or eating ice cream for breakfast. Scott will be remembered for his generosity, stubbornness and his love of visiting and a good argument. His lasting legacy will be the lessons he left us with: Love your family; Make memories with your friends; Enjoy life until your last day.
